

'A Full-Circle Approach to Construction Excellence'

At 3sixty Interiors, our vision is to transform spaces into captivating environments that reflect the unique tastes and lifestyles of our clients. We strive to elevate all aspects of design through a blend of creativity, craftsmanship, and innovation. Our mission is to provide an exceptional end-to-end solution, offering bespoke design and expert construction services that ensure every project is completed to the highest standards. With a focus on quality, transparency, and attention to detail, we aim to create spaces that inspire and stand the test of time.

A little bit about us...

Why we do what we do.

3sixty Interiors was founded on the belief that construction should be straightforward, honest, and built around the client. We pride ourselves on being approachable, friendly, and truly pro-active. From the first conversation to project completion, we work closely with you to understand your goals and turn your vision into a finished space that exceeds expectations.

We're not just builders — we're project partners. Our team thrives on clear communication, reliable timelines, and transparent budgeting. We bring experience, professionalism, and a hands-on attitude to every job, no matter the scale.

Whether it's a bespoke residential transformation or a commercial fit-out, we're committed to delivering results that reflect your ambition — with the care, precision, and accountability you deserve.

What we can do for you.

An end-to-end solution

At 3sixty Interiors, we deliver high-quality interior and exterior construction solutions across the London, Kent & the South East of the UK. Whether you're enhancing a space or embarking on a full development project, we offer a complete, end-to-end service that's tailored to your vision. Our team ensures transparency throughout the process, with detailed costing spreadsheets and regular face-to-face meetings to keep everything aligned with your expectations.

From initial consultation through to final handover, we take care of every detail — managing design, materials, timelines, and craftsmanship — so you can focus on the bigger picture. No hidden costs, no missed deadlines — just a professional, collaborative approach to construction that puts your needs first.
